

Dedication

The unique privilege of dedicating a yearbook to an active faculty member, who has completed sixty-six uninterrupted years in the educational field, is reserved for the 1974 CONIFER STAFF. These years of service belong to Brother Charles Crouzet, who has devoted his life to YOUTH in two countries and six states in the U.S. From 1908 to 1914, Mexico was the scene of his involvement; then from 1914 until today he has served in the States.

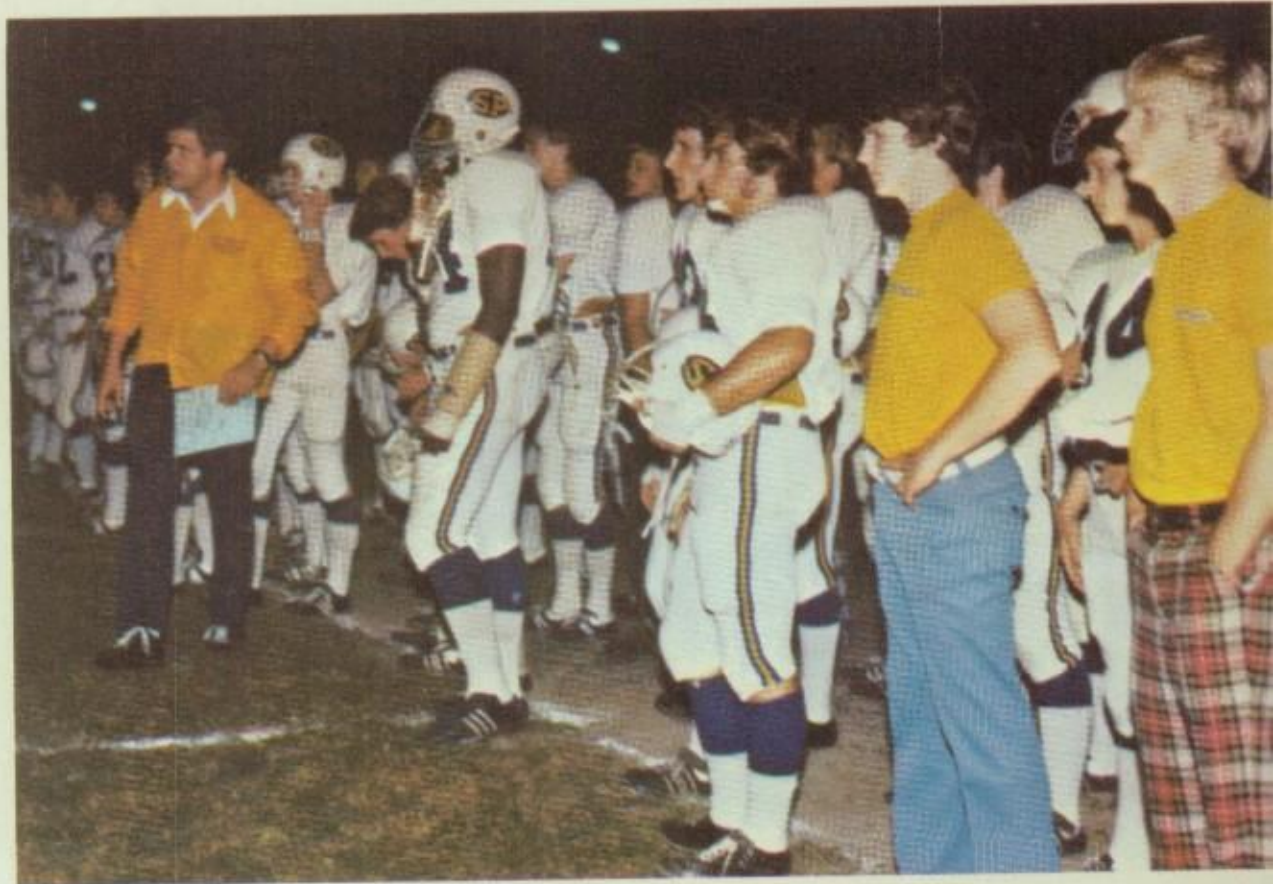

Of Brother Charles's sixty-six years of service, the youth of Louisiana have received thirty-two. To date, "Brother Charlie," as the seniors affectionately call him, has served three stints here at St. Paul's; totaling sixteen years of generous service as teacher, prefect, and typing teacher.

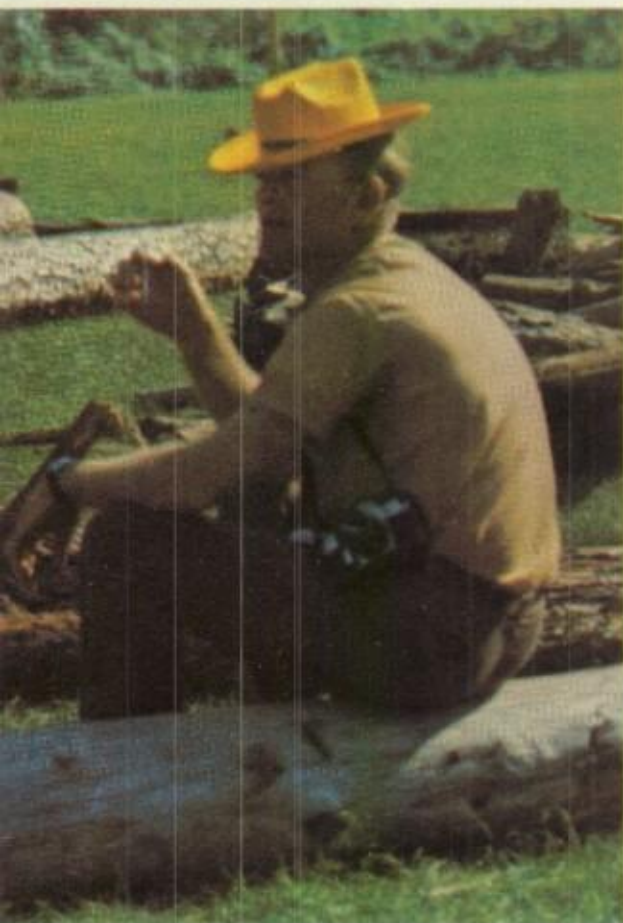

With his broad background of educational preparation, Brother Charles has taught all grammar school subjects and many high school courses. Typing has been his preference in high school instruction.

By his many students, Brother Charles has and still is greatly admired for his devotion to their educational needs. Over and above the hours spent in the classroom, Brother Charles maintains a spiritual contact with his students through a year-by-year listing of his boys, and he prays daily for their well-being.

With pleasure the '74 CONIFER STAFF proudly dedicates this annual to Brother Charles Crouzet, FSC.

The Key Club, St. Paul's premier service organization again proved its worth as the merited "Best Club in the District" for their involvement in the Covington area. Some of the on-campus projects were helping park cars, Homecoming preparations and elections, painting and overall odd jobs pertaining to the lawncare and landscape of our campus. They also acted as host for several banquets and receptions for various organizations. Projects outside of the campus were the Thanksgiving Can Drive which netted 5,200 cans for 53 families, and left most of the Key Club members lost on backroads in the Covington area. The Old Folks home was visited on Halloween by an entourage of 20 members who talked, sang, and just had fun with the old people. Miss Shan Simpson placed second in the Sweetheart Beauty Pageant. The year was climaxed by the Convention in Memphis.

The purposes of the National Honor Society — those of creating concern for scholarship, a desire to provide service, developing leadership, and the maturing processes of the development of character — were demonstrated in the many activities which the Honor Society undertook.

St. La Salle Day and Awards nights were the main projects in which NHS was involved. Each one was successful due to the service the members contributed.

73 FOOTBALL

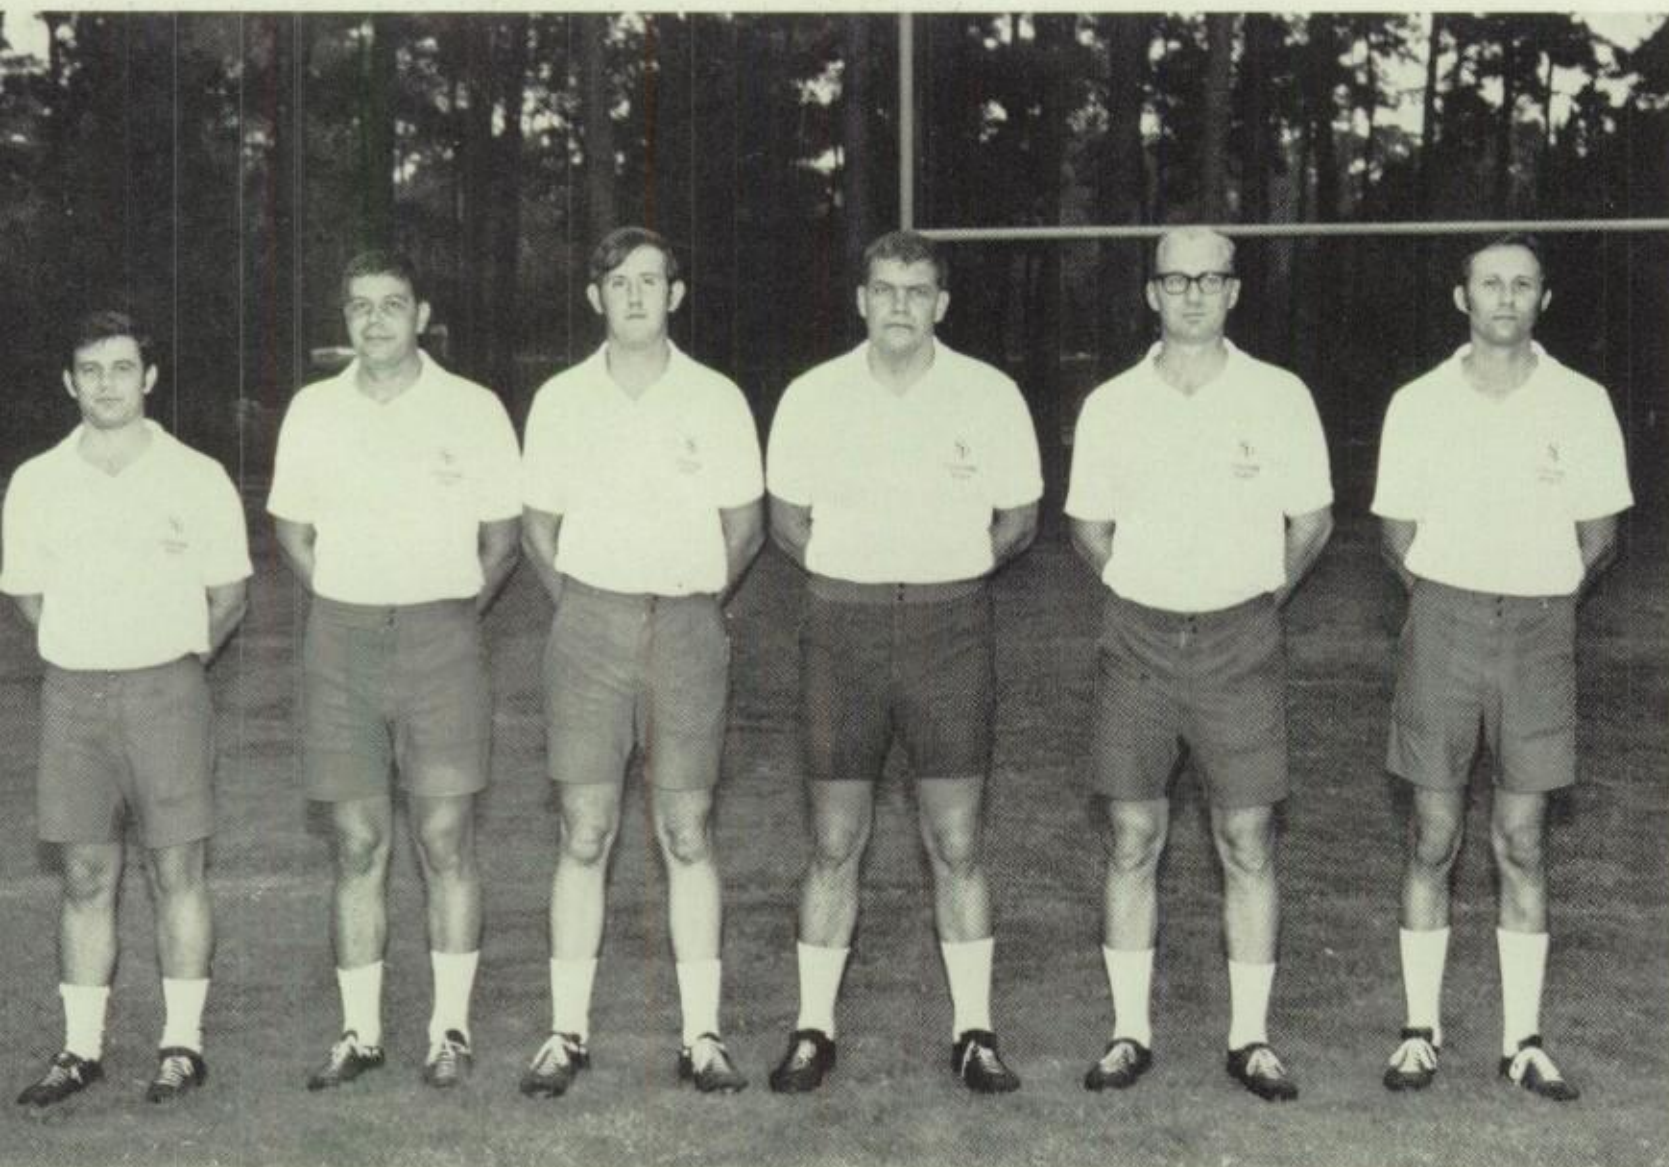

As we look back over the '73 season, we remember not only a very successful football season but one that was witnessed by the most enthusiastic student body ever. It was truly a great season for the entire school.

When any team is successful, behind this success there has to be a great deal of leadership. I feel that most of our success this season was due to a group of very dedicated and unselfish seniors. Not only were they an excellent group of athletes, but they were an excellent group of competitors. It takes much more than ability to be a winner and probably the most pleasing thing of the '73 year was the way this team lived the whole year as winners.

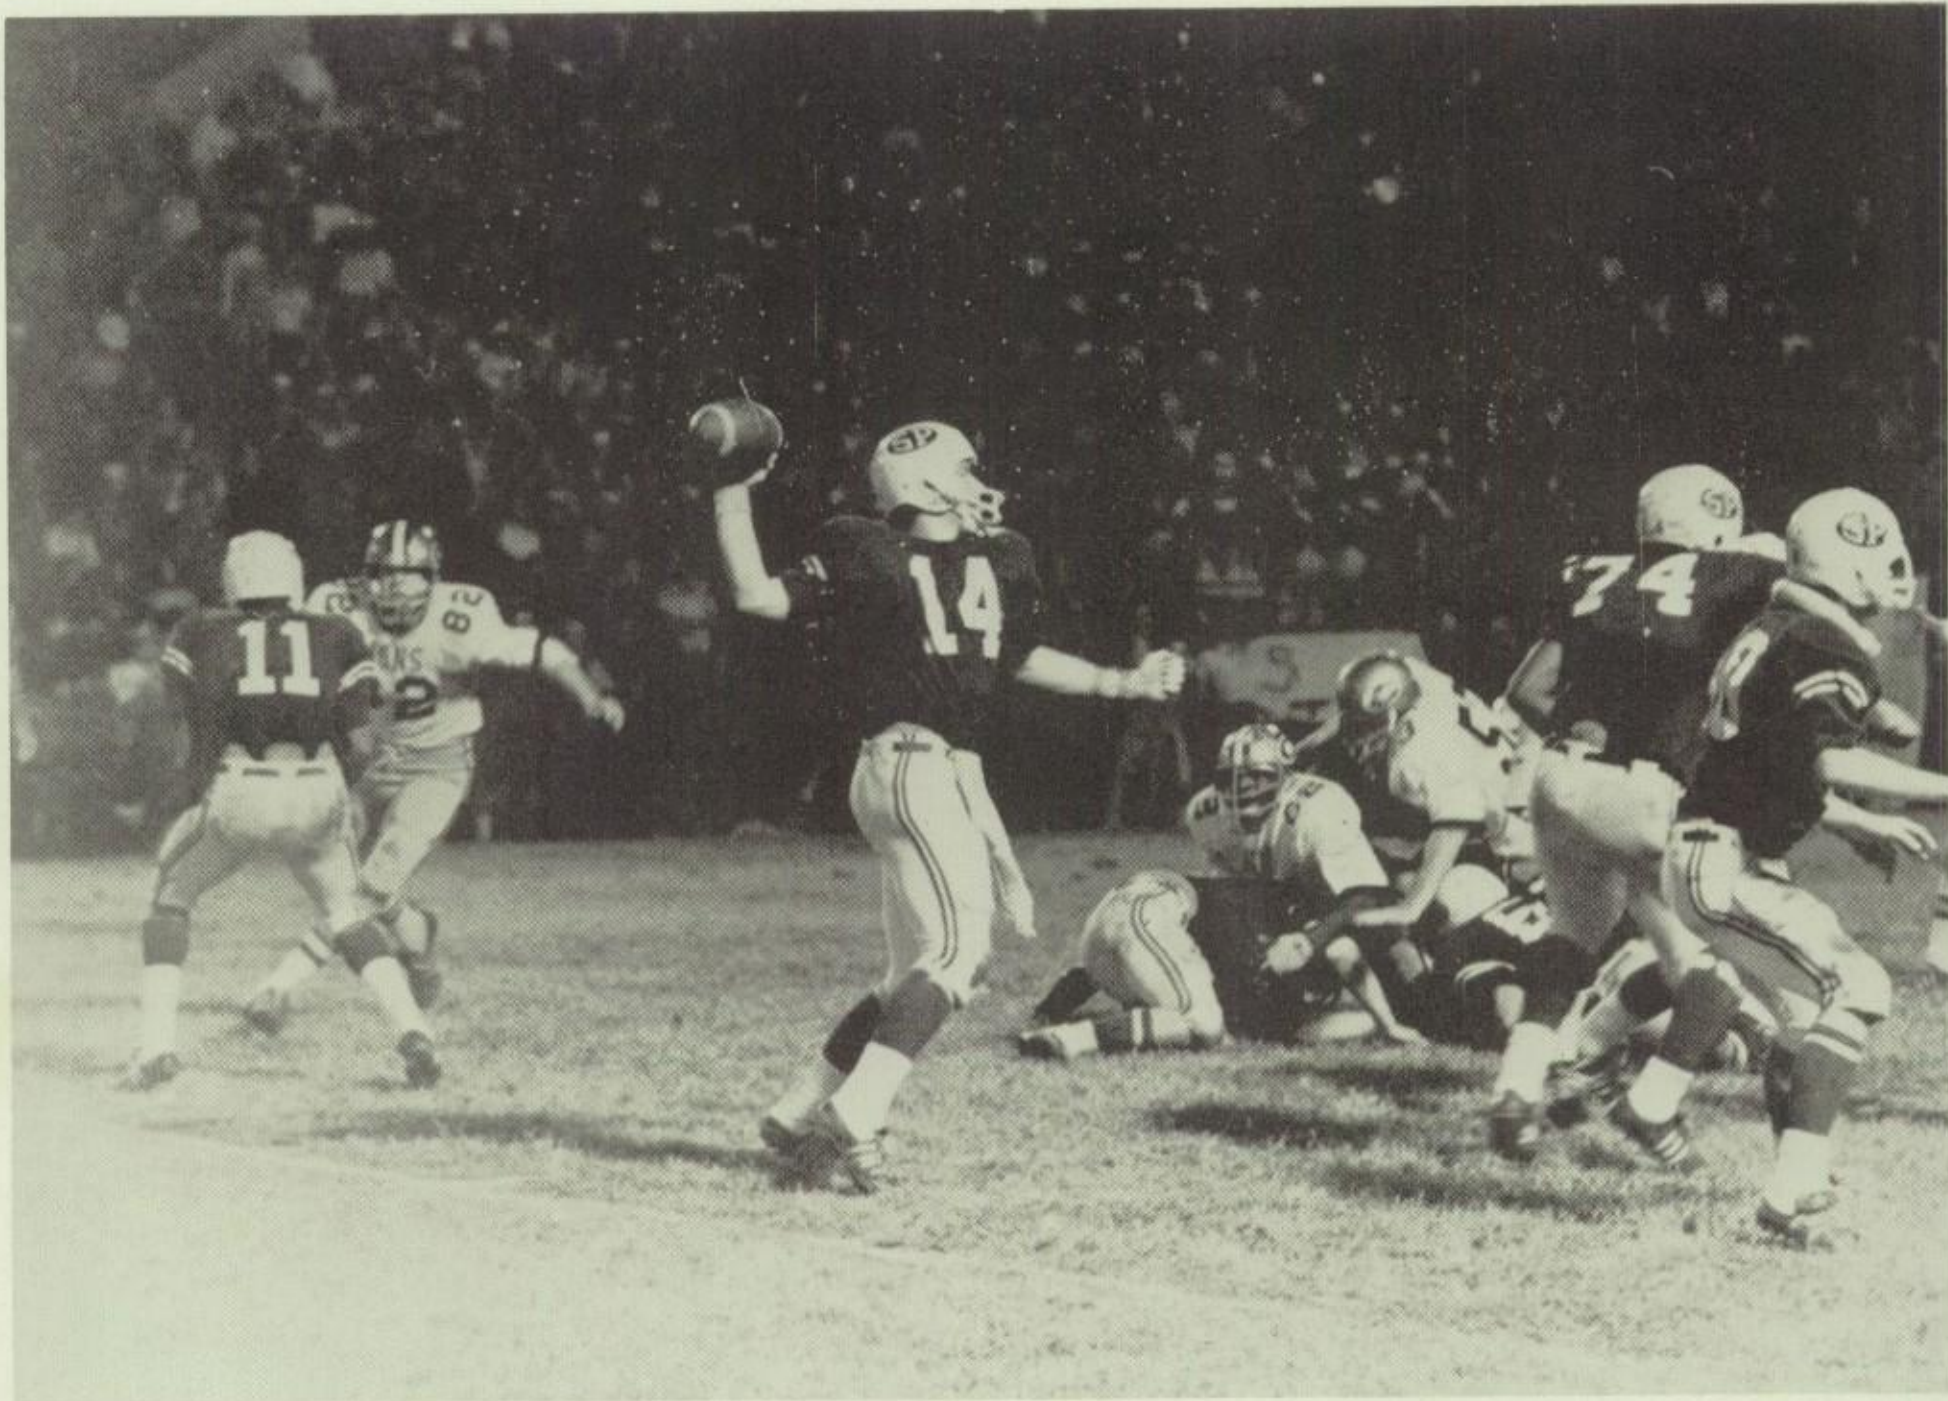

St. Pauls has built a tradition of being a team that is one to be highly respected and I think a 7-win 3-loss season together with a trip to the Bay St. Louis Bowl indicates that this tradition has been further carried.

The '73 football season serves not only as a great record for this year but as a tremendous challenge to the student body and teams of the years to come.

Basketball

Won and Loss records are only one way of measuring a team's success. Obviously, if this were the only measure, we could not consider this season a success. However, the 1973-74 Wolves were successful in many other ways. They were always prepared to play hard and to win every game, coming very close in nearly every game. They continued to improve as individual players and, more importantly, as a team. They truly continued the tradition of St. Paul's basketball being respected by every opponent in every game.
